

A Letter from our Founder & CEO

When I founded ei³ in 1999, I was driven by more than just a vision for innovative technology—I was motivated by a deep personal commitment to our planet's wellbeing.

As someone who cherishes time spent outdoors, particularly on the water sailing, I've witnessed firsthand the beauty of our natural world. This connection to nature has instilled in me a profound belief that we humans bear responsibility for stewarding our beautiful planet. This realization of responsibility led me to create ei³—a company focused on applying technology toward making businesses more sustainable.

The work at ei³ is complex and cannot be done alone. I'm privileged to be associated with ei³'s team of innovators who apply a wide range of technologies to create secure methods to connect machines, analyze data, and create business value. Witnessing the savings our customers achieve through the application of our technology gives me great satisfaction.

Our technologies enable companies to optimize their operations, reducing waste, conserving energy, and minimizing environmental impact while improving their bottom line. At ei³, we're proving daily that environmental stewardship and business success can go hand in hand.

Through thoughtful application of technology, we can address many important challenges facing our industries today. At ei³, we strive to do our part by creating solutions where innovation supports both business success and environmental responsibility. I invite you to join us in this ongoing effort.

Spencer Cramer

Founder & CEO

ei³ Corporation